

Personal Details:

Name: Nina Koehler
Date of birth: 03 August 1979
Nationality: German
E-Mail: Nina.Koehler@gpi.uni-karlsruhe.de

Education:

1999 – 2006 “Diplom” in Geophysics, University of Hamburg, Germany
Topic of Diploma thesis: “Seismicity patterns and variation of the frequency-magnitude distribution of microcracks in salt”
2003 – 2004 Graduate Diploma in Geophysics, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand
Topic of Research thesis: “SKS wave splitting beneath the Marlborough Fault Zone, South Island, New Zealand”
1990 – 1999 Abitur (A-level equivalent)

Work Experience:

since 09/2006 PhD student at Karlsruhe University, Institute of Geophysics
06/2006 – 08/2006 Scientific assistant, University of Hamburg, Institute of Geophysics
10/2004 – 02/2005 Student assistant, University of Hamburg, Institute of Geophysics
02/2001 – 03/2002 Student assistant at GeoPro GmbH Company, Hamburg, Germany, including a marine excursion in the Gulf of Mexico (03/2001 – 04/2001)