

Lindholm, Conrad
Born: 1951-03-09
Nationality: Norwegian

Position: 1991-present seismologist at NORSAR.
Present position: Program Manager, Earthquakes and the Environment.

Acad. degrees: 2001 Dr. Philos., Seismology, UiB, Norway
1987 MSc, Geophysics, UiB, Norway

Experience: 1990 Visiting scientist at University of Washington, Seattle, USA
1987-1989 Research assistant & research geophysicist, UiB

Expertise: Seismic hazard and risk, seismicity and earthquake recurrence, earthquake zonation, seismotectonics, earthquake microzonation. Numerous hazard investigations world-wide. Advisor for seismic hazard research in Central America and microzonation studies between 1996-2000 in Panama, Costa Rica and Nicaragua

Publications: 35 refereed papers; numerous reports, oral and poster presentations in proceedings and other international fora.